The Rising Rookies. Where futures are built and picks are traded like they're on clearance. Some of these teams have enough assets to field a small army. Some of them have basically nothing. Let's sort it out.

And yes, half these picks are getting moved before May 15. But if they aren't...

Thief River Unforgiven (Aaron)

All-time: 31-53

2025: 1-11

Team needs: WR youth, RB depth

- 1.01 — Jeremiah Love RB ARI
- 2.09 — CJ Allen LB IND
- 3.09 — Mike Washington Jr. RB ARK
- 3.10 — Skyler Bell WR BUF

Thief River has the 1.01 and wastes no time — Love is the pick and it isn't close. The RB room behind Loveland at TE and Charbonnet/Davis at RB needed a genuine stud and Love is exactly that. Allen in round 2 adds IDP depth to a LB room that's functional but not elite. Washington and Bell in round 3 are upside swings at positions of need. Herbert and Caleb Williams at QB is legitimately elite. Thief River is a contender in the RR and Love makes them more dangerous. Solid four-pick draft.

Boston Brahmins (Jim)

All-time: 9-15
2025: 7-5
Team needs: WR youth, RB depth

- 1.02 — Carnell Tate WR TEN
- 1.10 — Sonny Styles LB WAS
- 3.02 — Nicholas Singleton RB TEN

Three picks and Boston goes WR first which is the right call — Adams, Diggs and Samuel are the core but none of them are getting younger. Tate at 1.02 is the best receiver in the class and lands on a roster with Maye, Stafford and Henry already in place. Styles at 1.10 is a luxury IDP swing — Boston's roster is already good enough that taking LB1 of the class just because he's there is completely justifiable. Singleton in round 3 adds RB depth. Turns out Jim knows what he is doing — drafting smart and staying competitive. Brahmins are a threat.

Pacific Puffins (Shawn)

All-time: 15-33
2025: 3-9
Team needs: WR youth, TE succession, QB depth

- 1.03 — Fernando Mendoza QB LVR
- 3.01 — Dillon Thieneman S CHI
- 3.03 — Oscar Delp TE NO

Pacific Puffins already have the 1.03 pre-drafted so Mendoza is locked in — smart play in SuperFlex with Nix as the only real QB. The Puffins have Jeanty, Crosby, Jordan, Bonitto and a loaded DE room so the core is strong. Thieneman at 3.01 is great value — S2 of the class sitting there in round 3. Delp addresses the TE need in TE Premium with Kelce aging and Engram being Engram. Three picks, three different positions, all needs addressed. Quiet but effective draft for a quietly dangerous team.

London Legion (Mick)

All-time: 32-28
2025: 5-7
Team needs: RB youth, WR youth

- 1.04 — Jadarian Price RB SEA
- 2.04 — Denzel Boston WR CLE
- 2.08 — Kaelon Black RB IND
- 3.04 — Emmett Johnson RB KC
- 3.05 — Kaytron Allen RB WAS
- 3.06 — Antonio Williams WR WAS

Six picks and London goes absolutely mad at RB — Price, Black, Johnson, Allen, that's four running backs in three rounds. The backfield of Pollard, Javonte Williams and Conner is aging and London is replacing all of it simultaneously. Boston and Williams give the WR room young blood alongside Jefferson and Metcalf. London already has Garrett, Brooks, Bolton, White and a loaded defense — these picks just make a great team sustainable. Ambitious haul. If even two of those RBs hit London is in championship contention for years.

Latvia Unicorns (WTF did he say, Ross)

All-time: 49-59
2025: 3-9
Team needs: WR, TE, S

- 1.05 — Makai Lemon WR PHI
- 2.05 — Jacob Rodriguez LB MIA

Latvia had a rough year but the roster isn't as bad as that record suggests — JTaylor, Chase Brown, Nacua, Pittman, Davis, Landman. Two picks in three rounds limits the upside but Lemon is a great get at 1.05 — WR3 of the class addressing the biggest positional need. Rodriguez adds IDP depth at LB. No round 3 pick means Latvia is done after two swings. They needed more ammunition than this but what they have is solid. Better year ahead if these two hit.

UpsideDown Demogorgans (Better be better then Tim, Sager)

All-time: 0-0

2025: 0-0

Team needs: Everything — RB, WR, TE, QB succession

- 1.06 — Kenyon Sadiq TE NYJ
- 1.07 — Jordyn Tyson WR NO
- 1.09 — Jonah Coleman RB WAS
- 2.03 — Ty Simpson QB LAR
- 2.10 — Rueben Bain Jr. ED TBB
- 2.11 — De'Zhaun Stribling WR SFO

Six picks in two rounds and UpsideDown goes to work on every hole simultaneously. Sadiq in TE Premium at 1.06 is a cheat code — that profile at that position in this scoring system is exactly what you want. Tyson gives them a real WR1 candidate. Coleman fills the RB room. Simpson adds SuperFlex QB depth behind Stroud and Murray. Bain Jr. adds pass rush. Stribling is another WR swing. This is a franchise that mortgaged everything to get this pick haul and they're spending every dollar wisely. UpsideDown could be dramatically better by 2026 if these hit. Big draft. High ceiling. High risk.

Gainesville Gators(Mike)

All-time: 33-39

2025: 8-4

Team needs: WR youth, TE

- 1.08 — Omar Cooper Jr. WR NYJ

One pick. ONE. Gainesville has Henderson, Etienne, Jacobs, Dowdle, Phillips, Young, Rousseau, Jones, Baun — the roster is genuinely good. But one pick in three rounds for a team that needs WR and TE help is leaving a lot on the table. Cooper is the right call — young WR with upside filling a real need. Whatever you do Gainesville, build around what you have. The window is open but you need more ammunition than this.

Motor City Malachi Crunch (Death and Movies, John)

All-time: 35-25

2025: 8-4

Team needs: IDP youth, depth

- 1.11 — Caleb Downs S DAL
- 2.02 — KC Concepcion WR CLE
- 2.06 — David Bailey ED NYJ
- 3.11 — Josiah Trotter LB TBB

Motor City is already elite — JSN, StBrown, London, Egbuka, Harrison at WR, McBride at TE, Gibbs, Harvey at RB, Anderson, Highsmith, Van Ginkel at DE. So these picks are pure luxury additions. Downs at 1.11 is a gift — S1 of the class on a team that can afford to go IDP with a premium pick. Concepcion adds WR depth. Bailey is the best edge rusher in the class and Motor City grabs him in round 2 because why not. Trotter is an IDP dart in round 3. Great draft for a great team that didn't need to be great at drafting. Annoying.

Michigan Mungmen (Sexy Corbin)

All-time: 31-29

2025: 9-3

Team needs: TE, IDP youth

- 1.12 — Eli Stowers TE PHI
- 2.01 — Arvell Reese LB NYG
- 2.12 — Max Klare TE LAR
- 3.07 — Anthony Hill Jr. LB TEN
- 3.12 — Justin Joly TE DEN

Michigan goes TE three times in three rounds — Stowers, Klare AND Joly. In TE Premium that's a statement. Schultz is aging and the position needed a complete overhaul. Stowers at 1.12 is the best TE available after Sadiq. Klare in round 2 gives them a second option. Reese adds IDP youth to a LB room that already has Bush, Campbell and Wagner. Hill Jr. is another LB dart and Joly rounds out the TE haul. Michigan has Achane, Hall, Judkins, Lamb, StBrown, Oduze, Burns, Hutchinson — the core is elite. These picks just plug the holes. Very smart draft.

Windy City Blitz (Red Headed Mike)

All-time: 58-38
2025: 6-6
Team needs: RB desperately, WR depth

2.07 — Germie Bernard WR PIT

One pick in three rounds for a team with real needs. Mahomes, Bowers, Ferguson, Parsons, Sweat, Turner, Verse — the defensive and TE situation is actually great. But the RB room of Hampton, Hunt, Kamara and Brooks is a disaster and one WR pick doesn't fix any of it. Bernard is fine value at 2.07 but Windy City needed to be far more aggressive. Tough year ahead if they can't get RB help somewhere.

Philadelphia Pigskins (Old Balls Matt)

All-time: 74-34
2025: 11-1
Team needs: Depth, nothing urgent

3.08 — Malachi Fields WR NYG

One late pick for the class of the RR. CMC, Bijan, Cook, Chase, Pickens, Collins, Watt, Hunter, Oluokun, Smith — Philadelphia is a monster. Fields is a big WR with upside and great value at 3.08. When your only pick in three rounds is a luxury swing in round 3 you're doing something right. Philadelphia is the team everyone in the RR is trying to beat.

Riverside Rottweilers (HardHat Matt)

All-time: 68-40
2025: 8-4
Team needs: WR youth, S depth

No picks in the top 3 rounds.

Bijan, Cook, AJ Brown, Higgins, Olave, Pitts, Fannin, Warner, Cashman, Franklin — the Rottweilers are a fully loaded machine that traded all their picks away because they simply don't need them. The WR room is aging but it's aging gracefully. Riverside is a championship contender as constructed and they know it.

Manhattan Beach Militia (Tim)

All-time: Fail
2025: Let a good team die
Team needs: Everything

No picks in the top 3 rounds.

Manhattan Beach traded literally everything to other teams and has basically ceased to exist as a draft participant. Whoever owns this franchise is either rebuilding through trades or has completely given up. Hard to say which. Either way — nothing to see here.

RR Draft Order — Rounds 1-3

Claude said that, I thought it was funny so I left it. I changed some of what Claude said... like in Jim's he kept referring to Jim's team as Old Matt.

I was always taking Mendoza. I see him as my long term replacement for Stafford and I think between him and Maye I'm set at qb for the foreseeable future. Got Reese and Styles, so with Cooper I'm hoping my LB room is set for a number of years as well. You're right about my wr room - really need my bulk buying approach to yield a stud or three...

My other long term hope - Mendoza this year, and that Demogorgans first next year gets me Jeremiah Smith in a year when everyone else goes qb.

I don't like this draft so that was the main part I read in this article

You sure about that.
And Pigskins are the leader at 74 wins

He's counting postseason too. I've had awful luck in the postseason. Most points but a whole lot less wins.

He's cherry picking stats to look better, ain't nobody count post season on All-time records. That's like adding post season stats to all-time career stats.

I was always taking Mendoza. I see him as my long term replacement for Stafford and I think between him and Maye I'm set at qb for the foreseeable future. Got Reese and Styles, so with Cooper I'm hoping my LB room is set for a number of years as well. You're right about my wr room - really need my bulk buying approach to yield a stud or three...

My other long term hope - Mendoza this year, and that Demogorgans first next year gets me Jeremiah Smith in a year when everyone else goes qb.

Rumor has it Mendoza will be the next Josh Allen 😊

Also, the Puffins are picking Smith 100%.
Then at 1.02 I'm using my Brahmins pick on Moore or Arch.

I'm still waiting for updated projections from fantasysharks/mfl. Surely what's shown now can't be what they actually think.

Didn't even see this before the draft, but pretty spot on with your forecast for my draft there Tyler. Nailed it. 2/5 picks were correct and complimented my sex appeal
